

Tribus presents a low floor Civitas Economy for M1 passenger transport at Busworld 2019

Utrecht The Netherlands, 18 September 2019

The Dutch company Tribus presents a new solution at Busworld 2019; the Civitas Economy. This low floor minibus is a highly accessible minibus that offers 8 passengers seats and one wheelchair space. The Civitas Economy is a M1 minibus that can be driven with driver's license B. Ideally suited for community transport.

The Civitas is truly innovative thanks to the lightweight floor & seating system TriflexAIR in combination with a low floor chassis. TriflexAIR is a patented solution that features a mechanical and integrated wheelchair restraint system which is easy and fast to operate. Panoramic windows provide an optimal view and travel experience for all passengers. The Civitas has comfortable TriflexAIR seats with integrated three-point belts. All seats have an ISOFIX connection for the safe transport of children and multiple upholstery options.

One of the unique features of the Civitas is the low floor area which accommodates 5 seats. This makes access easier for people with reduced mobility. The Civitas is equipped with a folding ramp and therefore highly accessible for wheelchair passengers. Boarding is easy thanks to the wide metro doors by Ventura.

The Civitas Economy is based on a Volkswagen Crafter L4H3 with features like front wheel drive an automatic gearbox and a Euro 6 diesel engine that has one of the lowest emissions in its class. The dimensions are 6,84m length and 2,04m width. As Tribus is becoming a Volkswagen Premium partner the conversion is officially approved by Volkswagen and factory warranty is retained. The Civitas will have a European Type Approval and can be expected at the end of 2019.

The first demo model Civitas Economy will be shown at Busworld 2019, hall 9, stand 905. The first 26 vehicles are already sold to Q-Buzz in the Netherlands and expect to drive end 2019.
