

Tribus presents new wheelchair flooring system TriflexAIR 2.0 at Busworld 2019

Utrecht The Netherlands, 18 September 2019

The Dutch company Tribus presents an improved version of the well-known TriflexAIR flooring system at Busworld 2019. The completely redesigned TriflexAIR 2.0 is significantly lighter than its predecessor with a weight reduction of 50%! The floor is equipped with a fully integrated wheelchair restraint system designed for European M1 minibuses.

TriflexAIR is especially designed for converters of wheelchair minibuses. The TriflexAIR Floor in combination with the TriflexAIR M1 folding seats makes it possible to quickly and easily convert virtually any standard minibus into a multifunctional Wheelchair Accessible Vehicle. With space up to 5 wheelchairs or 8 seats. Depending on the minibus – a large variety of seating and wheelchair configurations are available to meet your specific needs. TriflexAIR is available for almost all the European brands like Mercedes-Benz Sprinter, Volkswagen Crafter, Ford Transit and so on. All layouts are fully tested to European Type Approval.

The Tribus engineers have completely redesigned the TriflexAIR solution while maintaining its unique features. The construction of TriflexAIR 2.0 has modular base elements which are compatible for all the brands. This provides dealers flexible building and offers an easy inventory process. The dimensions of the base elements are also ideal for easy shipping and low shipping costs.

The floor is glued on top of the original chassis and therefore corrosion free. On top a floor cover will be placed for various configurations. The floor cover has LED light strips for safe boarding and easy fixating of the wheelchair. The new lightweight construction is 50% lighter than its predecessor which results in a lower fuel consumption and may allow more passengers.

TriflexAIR 2.0 will be available at the end of 2019. The first demo model will be showed on Busworld 2019, hall 9 stand 905.
